Looking Forward

Without Looking Back

Below: Mrs. Betsy Morse watches Mr. Warren Dressler play Odysseus for Mr. Greg Shelton's family project film.

Forget failure and mistakes of the past and press forward with a fresh enthusiasm and confidence, knowing you can do it, knowing you will do your best and do your best not to repeat these. Knowing you didn't do well academically, forget it; and do well this year and forever after. Because you were in trouble a lot before doesn't mean you have to continue doing whatever caused you to be in trouble. A lack of respect, an inability to see the light at the end of the tunnel does not have to continue. Change your attitude; create your own light!

Look forward to graduation, to college, to training, to jobs, to a family, to whatever you aspire to. Look forward to being a valuable and responsible adult. Don't dwell on the past but strive to be the best you can be, strive with ambition to fulfill your dreams. After having left Howe, maybe you could glance back with fond memories and recognition of your failures and mistakes so that you are not destined to repeat them.

Below: The drill team prepares to lead Hornet basketball fans in a salute to our country.

Above: Nicole Duncan might look forward in the future to a job in make-up. Sam Hobbs gets help.

Looking Forward without Looking Back

Right: "Rainbow the Clown" (Michael Trotter) gets a laugh out of Mrs. Aman and her class.
Left: Mrs. Ballow prepares to transform herself into a clown for intersession.

Left: Coach Sean Marcum, Amanda Young, and Carola Kirsten, Howe foreign exchange student and top winner in Cross Country, wait for wrapping in the training room.

Middle: Mandy Steffey, Stephanie Harris, and Sandy Jenkins practice for their future entertainment.

Bottom Middle: Amy Dean plans out her future very carefully.

Bottom Right: Your education can bend you toward a job in teaching or art as did Mr. James Lynch's.

Far Left: The students register for the upcoming school year.

Left: To students observing the eclipse of the sun, this paper could represent a key to the door of success in science.

Bottom Right: The students leave school looking forward to tomorrow.

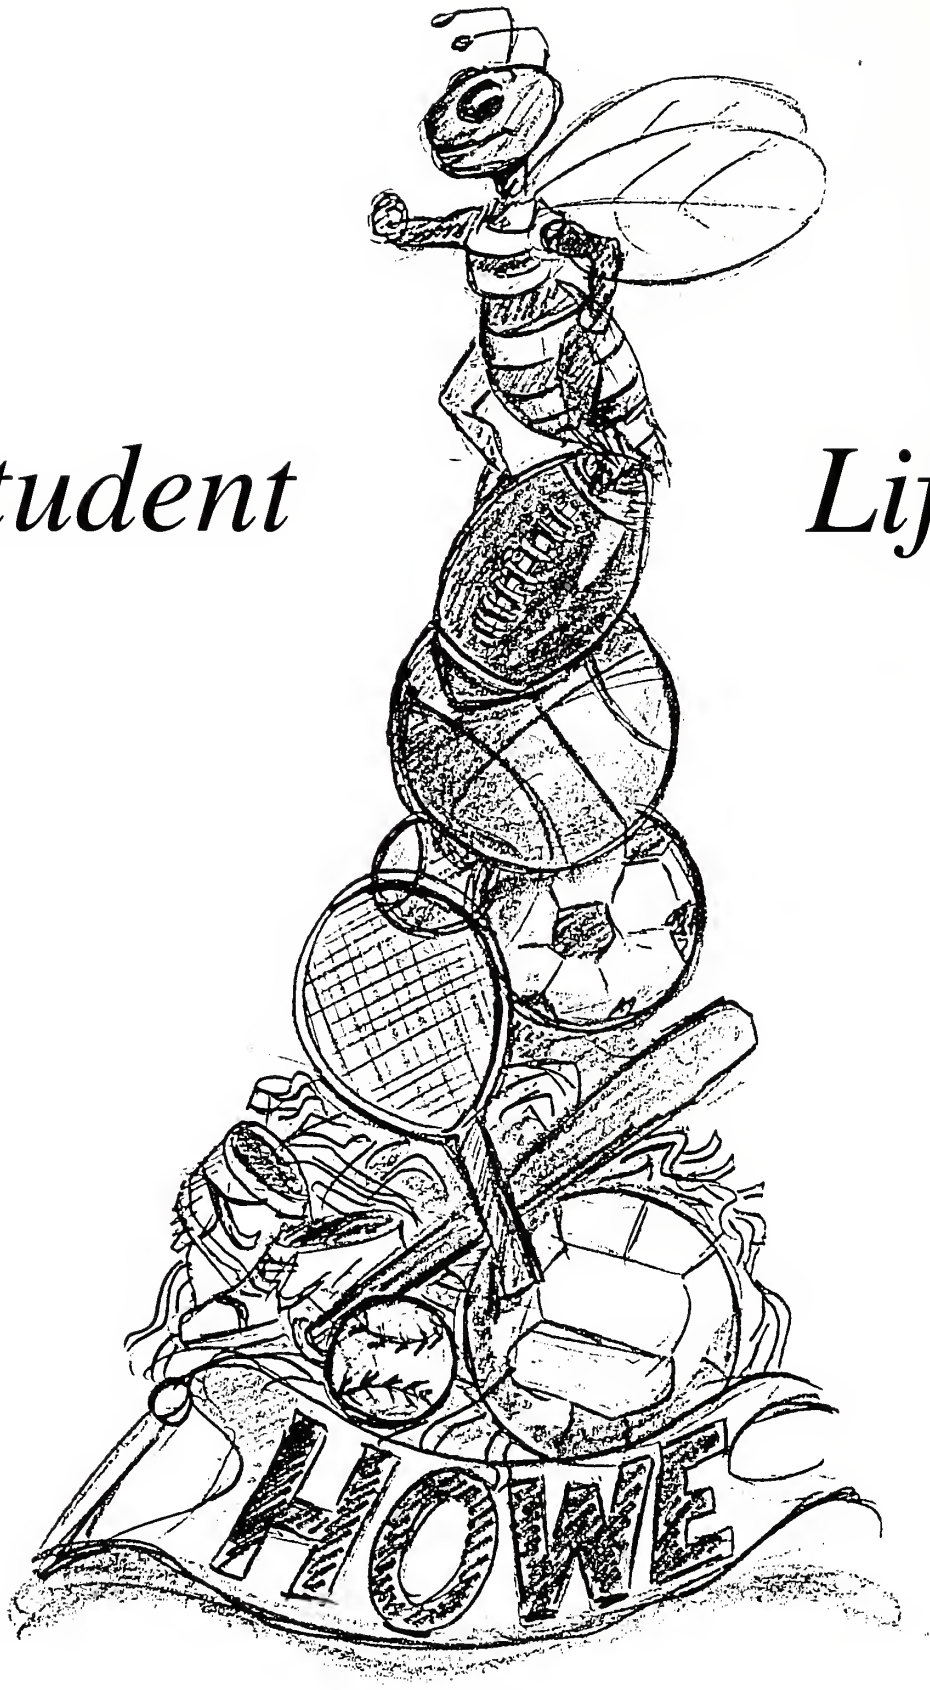

Student Life

Art

The goals of the Art Department are to give students at Howe High School the opportunity to gain knowledge and skills relating to the Fine Arts through studio and self study courses.

Students may learn aspects of drawing, painting, three dimensional crafts construction, ceramics, jewelry making, and computer graphics.

Danny Kord

Left: The outstanding work, done by our students, are placed in the displaying case.

Business

If you've been walking down the hall and heard clicking and humming, you must have been walking through the Business Department. There you will hear the soothing sounds of Ms. Penny McNeish teaching her eager typing students or Mr. John Skene instructing his accounting classes. The department has been utilized to aid with computer education for all freshmen in the Freshman Family classes. All that noise you hear is education in action in the Business Department.

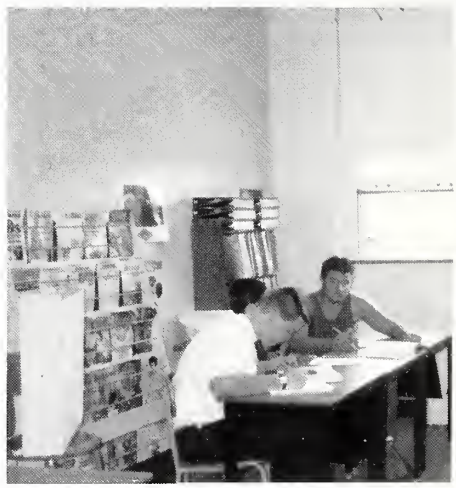

Above: Veronica Eldridge and Kisha Cooper enjoy accounting.

Above: Quinn Phelps and Tommy Brown are listening to the teacher's announcements and checking their books.

English

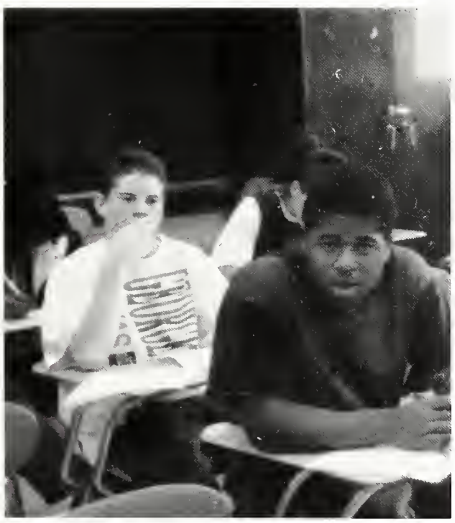

Whatever your liking is, there's something for you in the English Department.

If you like drama, the senior sponsored play is for you. If a mixture of art, music, and literature interests you, then Humanities is for you.

Even if you're just getting your required courses, there will be something for you in English 1-8.

The English Department plans to meet its goals of Essential Skills, providing proficiency tests on every level of English. A new teacher arrived, Lisa Frazer, to rescue overcrowded classes and teacher overloads. Tech Prep and Freshman Families are still being implemented successfully.

Below: Thad McKee is thinking about what Mrs. Shirley Stephens is saying in the Freshman Family class.

Right: Grant McDonald, Whitney McDonald, Sam Hobbs, and Becky Hicks are extremely interested in Humanities.

Below: Mr. Robert Huggins, who used to work in the finance office, loves teaching English.

Middle Right: Becky Wiker and Jeremy Hayes are very interested in English 5.

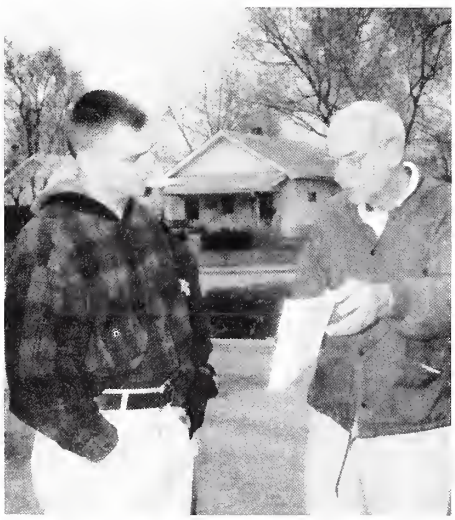

Foreign Language

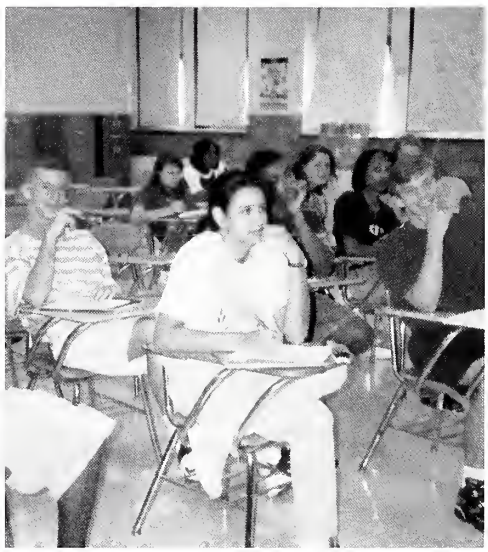

A lot of change has taken place in the Foreign Language Department since last year. Former Department Head, French and German teacher Dan Stanley retired, and French teacher Jody George transferred to another school. Joe Vespo is the new department head: math teacher Roxy Watson is now teaching French in addition to her algebra classes; and Gustavo Caliz is a new teacher who teaches math and Spanish. Dr. Bonnie Fisher is still teaching Latin.

Top Right: Julie Bridges, Jason Chapman, Josh Bowling, and Laura Keller participate in a French play.

Below: Former head of the Foreign Language Department, Mr. Dan Stanley, gives Jason Chapman a word of wisdom.

Middle: Sandra Petty is prepared for today's challenges.

Bottom Middle: David Smartz is checking Annie Burford into the Prom.

Counselors

The counselors were very busy with problems like over enrollment. Some classes had 40 or more students. People were still being enrolled after school started, but we received new teachers, which helped a lot. Even after the new teachers came in, the counselors had lots of work reworking students' schedules.

Below: Lakesha Degraphenreed, Misty Plew, Kristy Cloud, Shawn Cline, Jessica Brewster, and Jowanna Hamiter pay careful attention to their teacher Mrs. Shelly Keller.

This year's Home Economics Department was the source of all those aromas that drifted down Howe's hallowed halls. The staff grew by two as Paula McConnell and Shelly Keller joined to help teach the different aspects of Home Economics.
Aaron Springer

Below: Holly Stode, Mike Reed, and Brandi Martin study hard.

This year there were some new happenings in the Industrial Tech Department. Mr. John Divincinzo took on the construction lab along with his duties in the graphics lab. Mr. Steve Taflinger moved to the energy lab where a new program called "Principals of Technology" was started to get Howe students more involved in the Tech Prep classes at Howe. Mr. Dave Miller continued as Department Head, and all the students had a great time working on projects from computer design and silk screening to casting metal.
Steve Taflinger

Below: Sean Byrk, Chester Bohannaon, and Richard Rybolt consult on an assignment in Mr. Dave Miller's class.

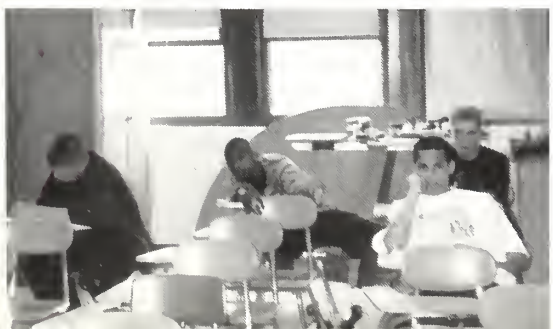

Industrial Technology

Left: James Napier and Mike Maxwell check over their computer drawn pictures while James Simpson and Gabriel Power look on.

Below: Mr. John Divincenzo's class works on a book assignment, taking a break from the hands-on computer technology they are used to.

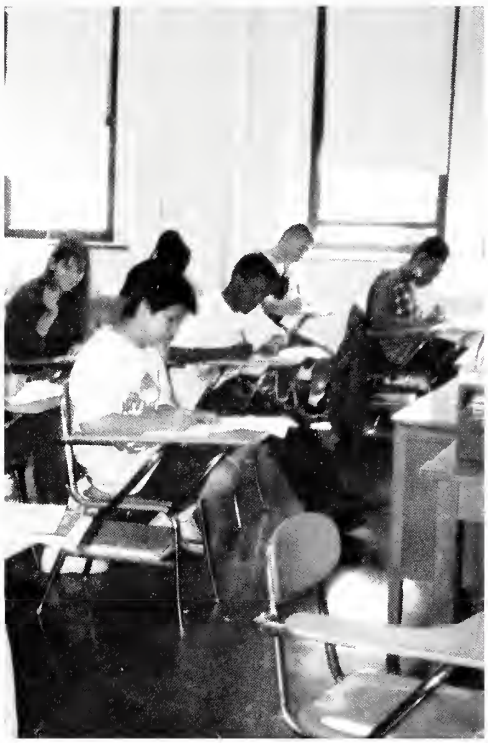

Math

Right: Terrie Canady, Keith Taylor, Craig Smith, and Albert Ellis watch the teacher put a problem on the board.

Above: Jimmy Vo, Tedros Andemicael, Natalie Marshall work on the assignment given by Mr. Charles Walter.

Middle: Jennifer Johnson, Kenneth Combs, and classmate do group work in math.

Right: Jennifer Urich and Chrissy Schroeder take notes from the board to help them when test time comes around.

This year the Math Department has experienced some change with new teachers and split curriculum. Miss Roxy Watson has been teaching French along with algebra. The new teacher, Mr. Gustavo Caliz, teaches algebra and Spanish. Two other new teachers in the department were Shelly Reece and Stephanie Sexton. The department has been extremely busy with over thirty classes of algebra. Only nine students, however, were taking calculus. Math continued to be a part of the Freshmen Families and Tech Prep programs. Department members have been instituting essential skills in all classes and have been preparing all freshmen for the new Gateway Test.

Above: Kanisha Amos and Turkessa Earls manage to help clean up the Media Center after the teacher recognition lunch.

Right: Jacob Hatton, David Unseld, Nathan Graham, and Eric Brown do not get discouraged by technology in the library. They have chosen books.

Media

The Media Center, which did not experience as many changes as last year, has had a change of staff this year. Mrs. Janet Woods returned to replace Mr. Irvin Haas while Mrs. Ann Boynton replaced Mrs. Phyllis Thomas. Mrs. Woods has been busy being in charge of WHOW, Howe's weekly news show, which airs before Channel One on Fridays. Senior Ronald Palmer serves as producer with sophomore Angel Schultz as assistant producer. Other students involved is the project are Dave Nelson, Kenny Burnett, Chad Price, Josh Roof, Jason Smith, Jeremy Wilson, Kelly Scott, Jessica Bell, and Heather Williams.

Heidi Wurster

Physical Education

Right: Winning is high on Michael Cooper's priorities.

The Physical Education Department emphasizes total fitness for life. Daily routines being followed in each class help the student develop at his own rate. The basic Physical Education classes are designed so that students experience various activities and games which develop the individual physically and socially. Participation by each student with the idea of having "fun by participation" is the main goal.

The electives of conditioning and team sports are chosen by those students who want to enhance their athletic abilities and fitness level. These classes are physically challenging and athletics consider them an integral part of their development.

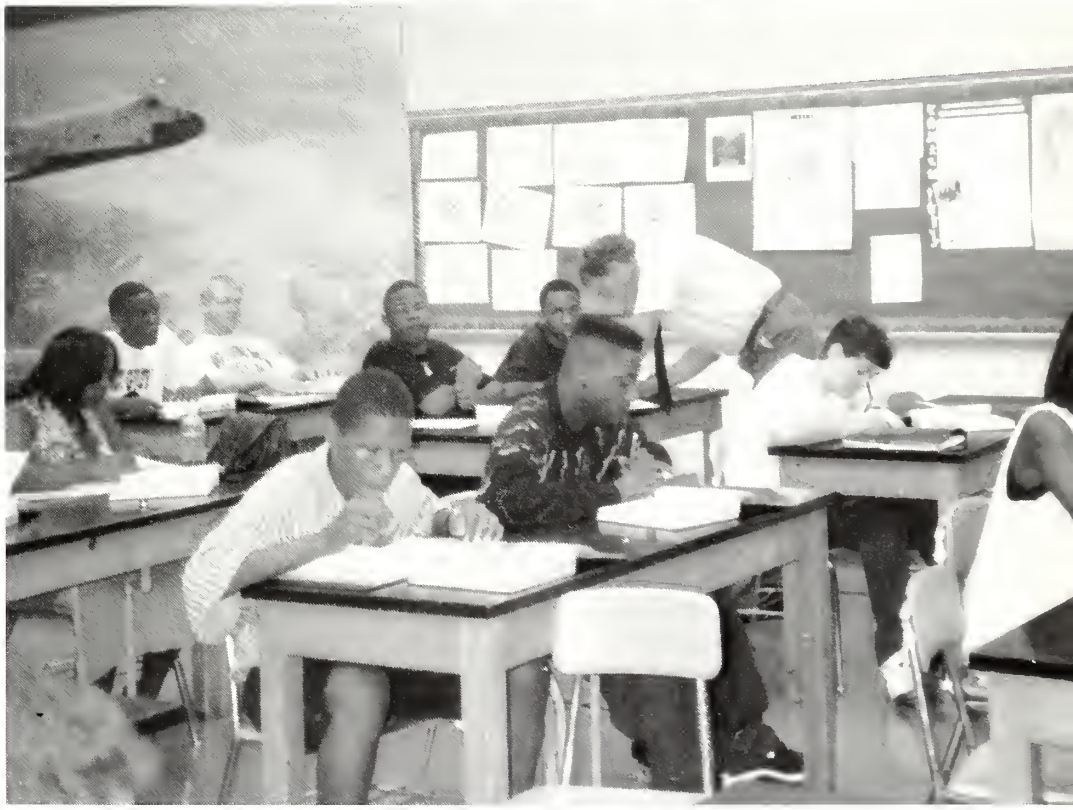

The Science Department, with a new teacher and a lot of new technology, hoped to help students see how science applies to everyday lives and to improve critical thinking and problem solving skills. The department hoped to achieve these goals by having good teachers lead lots of labs and experiments. Did they succeed?

Homecoming

Homecoming started with "Spirit Week." Students followed the function of the day, dressing in colors one day, carrying stuffed toys another, and ending with Brown and Gold colors Friday, and observing the others of the week. On Friday, October 7, the Homecoming itself began with a pep session during school time, followed by a parade at 6:30 P.M., the game with Broad Ripple, the crowning of the queen at half time, and the dance after the game.

Tashia Guynn was crowned Homecoming Queen for this year, and the Hornets beat Broad Ripple in the game 13 to 7.

"What is a young man to do when his father is the Holy Roman Emperor? Pippin, the first born son of Charlemagne, is an extraordinary young man. He is handsome, intelligent, high-born, but concerned only with finding truth and meaning in life. His father tri to persuade him to be patient and prepare himself for the inheritanc that will be his.

Pippin tries-he goes to war wit his father, but is repulsed by blood Pippin tries the pleasures of women, only to be exhausted by the delights of the flesh. Pippin tries the role of a revolutionary, but feels idiotic as a conspirator. What a dilemma for the heir of the Holy Roman Empire! Nothing begin to provide the fulfillment he is seeking until he meets a young widow Catherine and her small son. True love is wonderful. There is a feeling of accomplishment, but it i all too ordinary. There has to be something more than this. So he bolts from domesticity. In his lonelIness, Pippin realizes that his search for perfection and fulfillment was that of an idealistic boy. Through experience he has found that all of life is flawed in one way or another.

The story of Pippin is an eighth-century quest for fulfillment which finds itself finally and happily in peaceful domesticity. Rt the end, Pippin, Catherine, and her son Theo stand ready to face the world happily as very ordinary people."

HOWE TOWER

The TOWER staff was reduced this year to one class; consequently, the newspaper came out around every two weeks rather than every week as it did last year.

The staff had some difficulties but generally did a good job. There was an abundance of page editors so that the TOWER would have real quality and be absent of errors. News Editors were Melissa Loveless and Laura Keller; Feature Editors, Annie Dearth and Elizabeth Tull; Sports Editor, Karie Poynter; Assisting Editors, Aaron Springer, Rebekah Meek, and Jessica Bell; Editors-in-Chief, Lindsay Russo and Heidi Wurster.

Track

This year's Boys Track Team veterans were seniors, Damon Turner and Jason Thompson, along with juniors, Jimmy Quarles and Darrell Davis, and sophomore, Johnny Ray. This year's rookies were Chester Combs, Chris Brown, Wayne Brown, Tony Gray, Kevin Griffin, Maurice Callicott, Steven Johnson, Coleman Anderson, Damon Taylor, and Dewayne Oliver. Steve Johnson and Johnny Ray won the Kiwanis Boys Mental Attitude award; Johnny Ray and Damon Turner won the 400 Club Most Valuable Player award; Anderson Coleman won the award for Track: Carl Speiss Memorial Award for Outstanding Freshman.

Girls Track, coached by Head Coach Mr. John Wiggins and Assistant Coach Ms. Mary Koopman, started with fifteen girls and ended with four. Having too few students was often a disadvantage for the team. Those on the team who were honored were Demetria Stinger, Most Valuable Player, Christy Butler, Most Improved Player; and Amanda Brewster, Best Mental Attitude.

Hey, Batter, Batter, SWING!

The baseball team's 1994 season got underway on April 6 with the first game against Ritter High. The season had a bit of a bad start, as that first game was a rainout, but the players came out of that in time to win against Broad Ripple. Their next games were a disappointment, one being another rainout and the other being a loss. The final record of the team was 10 wins and 13 losses.

Chris Wilson won the award for Tri Kappa Mental Attitude; Jason Hamby won the Larry Bishop Memorial Award for most RBI's.

Boys Golf

The Boys' Golf Team started out with five participants. Most of the season the team consisted of four members: Darin Carnes, Andy Dammeyer, Mike Tiernan, and Eric Young.

English teacher Mr. Joe Vollmer served as coach for the team. The coach and team saw three wins and eleven losses, a ninth place win in the City Tournament, and a fourth place win in IPSAC.

Special awards were given to Mike Tiernan—the Tri Kappa Mental Attitude award and the 400 Club Most Valuable Player award.

Although the tennis season had a rough start, Howe has still pulled off many victories. We had our players from the year before: Jennifer Urich, Shannon Hunter, Annie Burford, Julie Bridges, Karie Poynter, and Aimee Zoeller, all of whom were varsity players. The other two varsity players were Naila Kennebrew and Jessica Poynter. We also had a junior varsity team this year. They were Brandi Jones, Monica Edwards, Tara Faryna, and Bobbi Wesner. This year's captains were the number one doubles: Karie Poynter and Aimee Zoeller. There was a lot of talent on this team; and we knew, if everyone worked hard, we would have a winning team. Jessica Poynter won the award for Tri Kappa: (Mental Attitude); Aimee Zoeller won the award for the 400 Club (Most Valuable Player); Annie Burford and Tara Faryna won the award for Most Improved.

The team was led by three senior captains: first baseman, Crystal Whitehead; pitcher, Heather Tolin; and second baseman, Karen Parker.

This year's team had an excellent year. The Lady Hornets, being the only I.P.S. school, made it to the second round of the City Tournament. Although Howe didn't win, all of us came out winners. The team's final record showed more wins than losses, 13-8.

The Tri Kappa Mental Attitude award was won by Vicki Beck; the 400 Club Most Valuable Player award was given to Crystal Morelock and Heather Tolin; the Coaches Most Improved award was awarded to Jennifer Hollenbaugh.

Football

This year's football season started off somewhat slowly by the team's losing the first three games, but by the fourth game the team was kicked into gear and ended the season with a 5-3 record. This year's Sectional was played at Franklin.

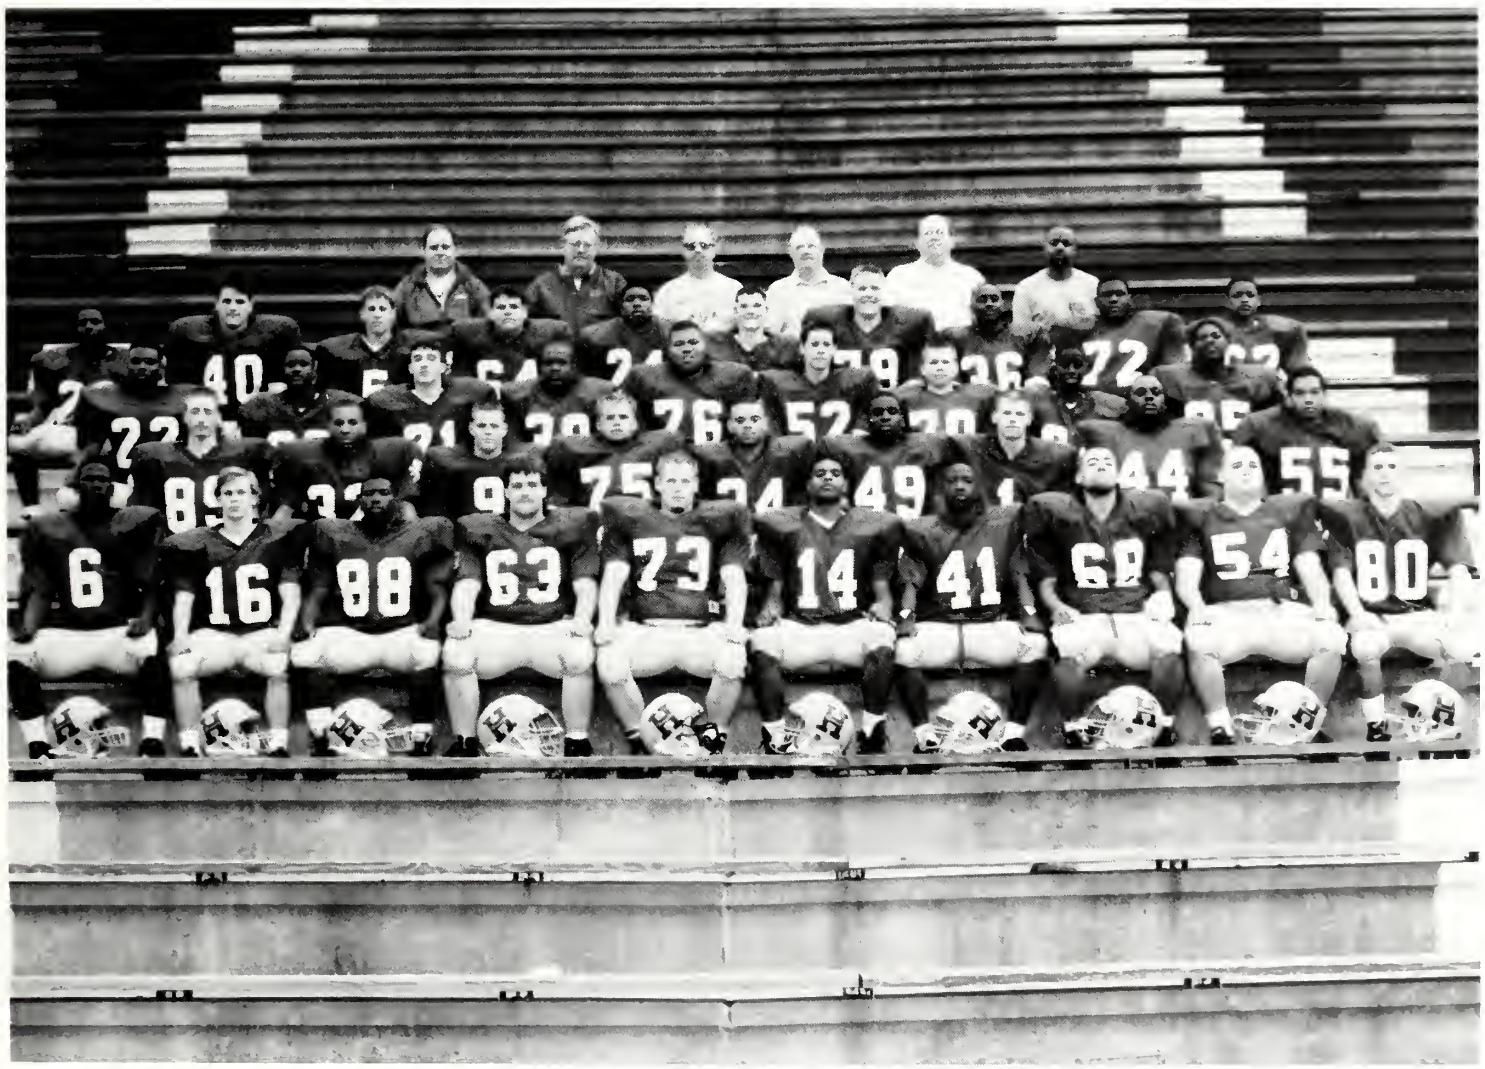

The captains Mike Mundy, Scott Wessel, and Kevin Sullivan would like to thank the fans for all of their support because without the fans the team couldn't have gone as far as they did.

The Howe volleyball teams had been doing great this year. Both the varsity and reserve teams started the season off with wins over IPS rival Northwest. They kept getting even better with each match.

The varsity team members are seniors Becky Hicks, Rhonda Troutman, Jennifer Hollenbaugh and Crystal Morelock, and sophomores Jennifer Lake and Alicia Hager. The varsity captains are Becky Hicks and Rhonda Troutman. The team brought home the championship trophy from the Sheridan Invitational at Sheridan High School at the beginning of the season.

The junior varsity team members are juniors, Tara Baker, Paulina Devore, and Dianna Bennett; sophomores, Christine Farber, Tara Faryna, Misty Neighbors, and Crystal Matrau, freshman, Tabitha Bratcher, and Jennifer Burton. The junior varsity captains are Tara Baker, Dianna Bennett, and Tara Faryna.

Good luck to everybody and to the juniors who will be playing on the varsity team next year. A little note to the coaches (V) Brian Hawkins, (JV) Virginia Hicks, assistant coach Betty Woods for all your help and thanks for being there for us.

Soccer

In a way the soccer season was a success by building a strong foundation for next year's team. Almost all of the players this year were underclassmen and first year players with only four returning varsity seniors: Sam Hobbs, Chad Price, Josh Roof, and Doug Sims Jr. It is as yet undecided whether or not Bill Moore will coach next year's team.

But no matter who the coach is, next year's team has a ray of hope. The team has greatly improved, and each player has worked very hard to improve his own skills. After all, it's not about winning or losing, but "Howe" you play the game.

The team this year was coached by Errol Spears and Mary Koopman. The captain was Justin Morris.

When in need of a new coach Mr. Joe Vollmer's student teacher, Mrs. Megan Booth, came to the rescue for the Girls Swimming Team.

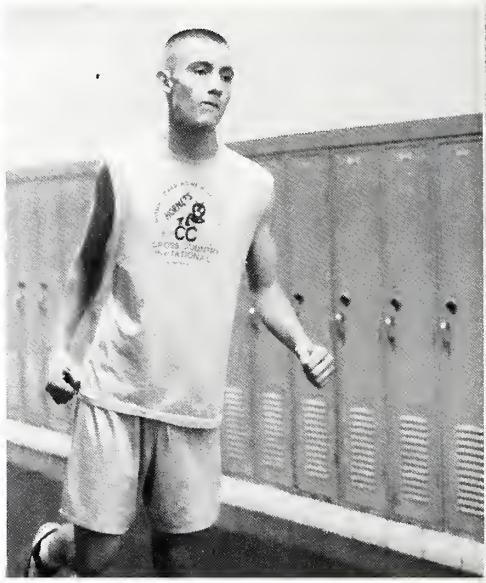

The team members found difficulties again this year with not having their own pool, having to work around Tech High's team, having late practices, and having a small number of swimmers on the team. Mrs. Booth stated, however, that the team members gave their best every time and showed remarkable sportsmanship whether they won or lost.

Trisha Wilson and Carrie Hubbard were captains for the team. Trisha Wilson received the Mental Attitude award; Amanda Young, the Most Valuable Swimmer; and Ronda Spratt, the Most Improved Swimmer.

The team should have been recognized for their hard work and dedication.

The Boys Cross Country did as well in individual; Johnny Ray won it all, came in first place, in IPSAC. The only returning varsity letterman on the team was also Johnny Ray.

Sometime during the football game, a person might wonder who the girls are who are on the sidelines in jerseys. These girls are the Golden Gals, a group exciting, inspiring the football team members to make life a little easier for them and the coaches. Beyond supporting this way, the girls run water, take statistics, and run chains.

The Golden Gals will never forget their cheering the team on to victory. Being a Golden Gal gives a student a chance to learn more about football and see the action behind the scenes, become close to a number of football players, and acquire a great number of good friends. Being a Golden Gal is very tiring but all the hard work was worth all the memories each will always have.

The Hornet Basketball Team, led by captains Brian Williams and William Malone, started the season optimistically and looking for an undefeated season. With the help of seniors, Michael Mundy and Harold Keys, and junior, Alfonzo Torrence, these starting five set out to win IPSAC, city, and their sectional. But as in any activity, there were obstacles in their path, and the Hornets finished with a record of less than what they desired.

Howe Lady Hornets

This year's Girls Basketball Team has improved tremendously over last year's team. Hours of practice, hardwork, determination, confidence, attitude, and heart have made the Girls Basketball Team winners.

This year started out with two new coaches. Varsity Coach Michael Bryant and Junior Varsity Coach Kathy Dwenger implied the strength in all of us was to play the game with all we had. Jennifer Hollenbaugh and Crystal Morelock are going to be missed, but they will always have a name at Howe.

Wherever they may be, keep an eye out for the returning varsity players of next year #10 Chonta Freeling, #12 Alica Hager, #14 Vicki Beck, #20 Portia Flournoy, #50 Sharanda Carr, and #42 Nicole Power.

Give me a H . . . O . . . W . . . E . . . !

No game of football would be the same if it weren't for the pride of cheerleaders. But before you saw them at a game, there were hours of practice and preparation that was needed. With more girls coming out, there were cheers to be taught and time well spent to get it all together. With the spirit and enthusiasm of the cheerleaders, the girls gave "Pride" to the meaning of Howe, of which we were all proud.

The Highsteppers this year consisted of eighteen girls. Ms. Lisa McDonald loves working with the girls. Sometimes she gets angry, but we all know that she loves the girls. The group has no captains. They all work together. When they need help with a part to a dance or an entire dance, they ask Kyana Taylor, Barbara Parks, or Janelle White for help. The Highsteppers participated in dances at the home games for football, basketball, and marching with the band. They sometimes do a dance with the cheerleaders at home games.

The Cheerleaders had a really great year! They worked really hard to accomplish their goals. The Cheerleaders worked very well together to have an excellent year.

This years's senior-sponsored play, Arsenic and Old Lace, was a great success even though the cast faced many obstacles including the loss of a director. However, Betsy Morse and Lisa Frazer pulled the cast together with the help of Kevin Friedly and Student Director Elizabeth Tull. It was the first time in many years that there were three performances for the play. All three performances were a success.

The two elderly Brewster sisters added much humor, poisoning people, hiding them in the window seat, and burying them in the basement. The Brewster brother who thought himself to be Teddy Roosevelt also brought enjoyment to the play. The entire cast was a delight.

HILLTOPPER

The difficulties the HILLTOPPER staff encountered were numerous since nearly the entire staff was new. Students had to learn to take pictures, to write copy, to make layouts, to write captions, to crop pictures, to index, and to do other required work as well as hand out Prestige pictures to students and identification cards.

The editors, Vicki Beck and Heidi Wurster, worked hard on the yearbook, often typing words and directions for the printer.

HOWE TOWER

Aspiration—Activity—Achievement

Vol. I THOMAS CARR HOWE HIGH SCHOOL, INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA, MAY 22, 1939 No. 1

Building, Athletic Field To Be Started Soon

Plans are now being made for an addition which will be erected at the end of the south wing and connected with the present building. It is expected that work on this building will be begun during summer vacation and finished by January, 1940.

Many Facilities To Be Provided

A cafeteria, located on the west side of the ground floor, will seat from four to five hundred students.

Dressing rooms and showers for the gymnasium classes are to be located on the east side of the ground floor. On this floor will also be kitchens, storerooms, refrigerators, cafeteria manager's office, employees' dining room, and teachers' dining room.

Gymnasium To Be in Addition

First floor plans include a large gym floor, divided into two rooms by folding doors. This will make it possible to have boys' and girls' gym classes at the same time. When the doors are folded back, the floor becomes a regulation size for basketball. Against the east and west walls will be folding bleachers. A medium-sized stage and dressing rooms at the south end will be used for assemblies. The girls will have their classes, examination room, and gym office on the south side of the gym, and the boys, on the north side.

A large room for the band and orchestra and a room for the storage of instruments will be located above the foyer. Lighting from the outside will come through prism glass.

Athletic Field in Front

The athletic field is to be in front of the building. It is to consist of a quarter-mile cinder running track and also a 220-yard straightaway for short races and hurdles. In the center of the quarter-mile track will be a sodded playing field, large enough for football, field hockey, or softball. Plans are also being made for tennis courts east of the present gravel path.

Birthday Celebration Will Be Achievement Pageant

First Violet Queen

Margaret Gordon will reign as first Violet Queen at the Pageant of Achievement on Friday. Her attendants will be Marilyn Behymer, Ella Nora Tomlinson, Eileen Edwards, and Jo Ann Harmon.

Violet Queen was chosen as the title because the site upon which the school is built has long been known as Violet Hill.

MRS. THOMAS C. HOWE SENDS GREETINGS

Mrs. Thomas Carr Howe, widow of the educator for whom this school was named, sent this greeting to the first issue of the school paper:

"A very pleasant day spent at your school recently surprised me with the rapid growth which has taken place since the lifting of the first shovelful of earth two years ago. Now you have a well-equipped building, a principal second to none, an office force, a staff of teachers, and a librarian—all as fine as any in the city. The spirit you have

Ground-Breaking of School Was Year Ago Today

The campus of Thomas Carr Howe High School, previously known as "Violet Hill," will be a colorful scene on Friday afternoon, May 26, for the school will celebrate the second birthday of its ground-breaking with a "Pageant of Achievement" to be presented on the main entrance steps. The pageant will be followed by an all-school May Festival dance in the gymnasium.

Girls of the physical education classes, representing violets, will dance on "Violet Hill" in anticipation of the arrival of their Violet Queen. As the trumpet sounds from the tower, the philosopher, the Spirit of the Tower, will come to greet the Queen and her Court and welcome her to the Palace of Youthful Achievement.

Queen Will Receive Year's Records

The Queen will be impersonated by Margaret Gordon. Her attendants will be Marilyn Behymer, Ella Nora Tomlinson, Jo Ann Harmon and Eileen Edwards. Robert Winter will represent the philosopher. He will explain to the Queen the change that has taken place on "Violet Hill" since her last visit of a year ago and will present to her the Parade of Achievement composed of representatives from each department and activity. They will give to the Queen scrolls containing records of their accomplishments during the first year of the new school. One achievement of the physical education department, a polyrhythmic drill, will be reenacted in honor of the Queen. The Queen will receive a crown of violets and with it a new title, "The Spirit of Youthful Achievement."

A boy and girl citizen, impersonated by Charles Scheffe and Mary LaShorne, will receive the Queen's charge of trust, to sponsor the student body in emulating the citizenship qualities of Thomas Carr Howe during the ensuing year. The choir, under the direction of Mr.

Noted Personalities

A Howeite looks back on the tower clock as his day of classes is over; a graduate glances over his shoulder at the clock as the commencement processional begins; and this year Mr. Charles M. Sharp will walk from the doors below the clock for the last time as principal of Howe High School. That clock wos storted at a signol from Mr. Sharp 21 years ago, symbolizing the beginning of o school. For over two decades, its hands hove moved along with the possing years, morking periods of learning, exponding, and achieving in the lives of Howe students. It has become an integrol part of the growing school as classes have enrolled and graduated. Although the clock records the passing of time, the HILLTOPPER for 1959 has stopped time to record in its pages

- Located just south of Pleasant Run Parkway in historic Irvington.
- Total enrollment 1,448
- Long tradition of academic excellence and innovative programming.
- Community Hospitals of Indianapolis, Partners in Education
- Home to the "Intersession," 14-day courses held after winter break that range from scuba diving to gourmet cooking
- Juniors and Seniors benefited from internships at area businesses in addition to classes.
- Focused on individually guided education.
- A School Based Decision Making (SBDM) site.
- A Re-Learning School in the Coalition of Essential Schools.
- Principal Madora Walker

In the beginning . . .

Above: Construction of the stadium was planned in the 1940's. The stadium was completed Friday, September 13, 1965.

Above is the drawing of the 1954 addition to the building. Below is what was written about it in the Hilltopper at that time.

"Here it is! A big sneak preview of our new addition. Someday (September, 1954, we hope) classes in English, Math, Music and Art will be moved to new quarters. Classes were often disturbed this spring by the sounds of a riveting machine or a busy bulldozer, but teachers tried to ignore them as visions of new classrooms danced through their heads.

There's a new addition to the new addition too. Howe's new ROTC unit, complete with rifle range, will occupy the subbasement. Fellows are really looking forward to this, and some underclassmen are eager to revise their schedules to include the new program."

Capt. David Jones Serves In Quan Loi, Vietnam

DAVID J. JONES

Capt. David J. Jones is serving in Quan Loi, Vietnam, where he was promoted to his present rank on Oct. 5.

He is commanding officer of Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion, 28th Infantry.

Capt. Jones has been in Vietnam since August. He served 20 months with the 2d Logistical Command on Okinawa.

He was graduated in 1964 from Thomas Carr Howe High School and attended Butler University before he entered the Army in October, 1965.

Capt. Jones' wife, Sandra, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Jones, live in Indianapolis.

Thomas Carr Howe Graduate Wins 26th Air Medal

Army SP5 Rainer V. Bauer, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Bauer, 5348 Lexington Avenue, a crew chief in Company A of the 4th Infantry Division's 4th Aviation Battalion near Pleiku, Vietnam, received the 26th award of the Air Medal March 31 near Pleiku.

He received the award for combat aerial support of ground operations in Vietnam.

Specialist Bauer volunteered for service the day following his graduation from Thomas Carr Howe High School in 1965.

Many Howe students died in Vietnam.

Ex-Howe Pupil Is Hero In Vietnam Battle

Lance Cpl. Jack L. Patton has been promoted to the rank of corporal, and recommended for the Bronze Star Medal for recent actions against the enemy in Vietnam.

Patton

He also will be given a rest and recuperation leave for capture of an enemy soldier.

Cpl. Patton, a machinegun squad leader, killed six of the enemy, captured a North Vietnam soldier, and was shot in the head by enemy fire, all in a day's battle.

His outfit was sweeping a road where a convoy had been ambushed the day before, when the enemy opened fire. Patton had to fire from a standing position, and became a target for enemy grenades. He grabbed one up and hurled it away from his position before it exploded.

He killed an enemy machinegunner who just had killed one of his men. As he moved ahead of his squad, he was knocked down by sniper fire which dented his helmet.

Patton charged the sniper's position behind a knoll and killed him with a grenade. He captured a slightly wounded enemy soldier in that area, also.

Patton was graduated in 1966 from Thomas Carr Howe High School.

He is the son of Air Force T-Sgt. and Mrs. John C. Patton, stationed now at Austin, Tex., and is a grandson of Mrs. Frances Little, 1862 Millburn Street. His 13-month tour of duty in Vietnam took basic training at San Diego, Calif., and at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Gary M. Andrew, son of Mrs. Mary L. Andrew, 2621 East Wade Street, is home on leave after completing 36 weeks of technical aviation electronics training at the United States Naval Air Station at Memphis, Tenn.

Andrew

After April 24, he will be stationed for the next two years at Quonset Point, R.I.

SP4 Donald R. Pemberton Jr. is serving with the 198th Light Infantry Brigade at Chu nam.

He has received his wings for 30 missions over enemy territory as a "door gunner" in a helicopter, and has been awarded the Combat Infantry Badge.

He enlisted Jan. 3, 1967, and received training at Fort Jackson, S.C.; Fort Lewis, Wash., and Fort Hood, Tex. He has been in Vietnam since September, 1967. He attended Thomas Carr Howe High School.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Pemberton, 3218 English Avenue.

William Riggs Dies In Viet

The death of a 20-year-old Indianapolis soldier in the Vietnam war has been reported by the Defense Department.

Pfc. William S. Riggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Riggs, 5527 University, was killed Feb. 15 in combat near Saigon.

Riggs had been in Vietnam since last October. He was stationed with the 1st Air Cavalry Division. He was a 1966 graduate of Howe High School.

Other survivors besides the parents are brothers Randall Ray, Mitchell O., Joseph Lee and Jeffrey Mark Riggs.

Below: Many Howe students also died in WW II.

Uncle Sam's Howe patriots discuss defense efforts

Defense savings and activities are prominent in the minds of Uncle Sam's nieces and nephews at Howe.

Skate and save

Among leading patriots are Ann Todd and Sara Jo Puckett. "'Skate and Save' is our motto," Ann exclaimed upon questioning, "we plan to start a new fad: roller skating to school."

"It's a fine idea," agreed Jack Hart and Burnside Marriott, "but we'll ride our bikes as long as bicycle tires are obtainable."

Karolyn Gould views the rubber shortage optimistically: "Just think, when my old rubbers wear out, I won't be able to buy any new ones." Ethelda Keiter, however, questions, "I wonder if we'll be having our rubber shoe soles retreaded."

What time is it?

Sleepy, puzzled faces around Howe are the result of Central War Time. "Will I never learn to go to sleep at 8:30 and awaken at 6:00?" Betty Schriner sleepily asked her locker partner one morning.

Bob Eicher now has a legitimate excuse if he is tardy. At 7:00 A. M. in University Heights Bob can't see the bus, and the bus driver can't see Bob.

Any sugar for flies?

Ellen Aldag's problem is certainly unusual. She questions, "Will Uncle Sam issue ration cards for the flies I'm breeding? Biology or no, I refuse to give up any of my sugar allotment for flies."

Novel ideas for patriotism: Jeanette Ballard believes every woman should remodel her old felt hats. Suzanne Conner suggests triple dating to save on car use. Claralee Myers prophecies a scarcity of novel buttons. In self defense, she is therefore collecting and saving old buttons.

Howe's Wars

They're gone with the draft

Howe students are feeling the draft, and not the kind you catch cold from either.

Eleanor Bailey has said farewell to Howe and is now in Mississippi with her family. Her father was called to Camp Shelby.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good. Howe now has a promising new student, Juanita Neidernhofer. She has attended 32 schools, coming here from Elmhurst Jr. High in Oakland, California. Her father, an aviator, is now stationed at Schoen Field, Fort Harrison.

Kathleen Wilson's brother has answered the "Call of the Draft." Bert Edwards and George Fullen report cousins on a gunboat en route to Hawaii. Robert Reuter's father was summoned to Washington and Robert is no longer at Howe. Mary Lyday and Marie Tyner's brothers have been enlisted under selective service.

Teachers at Howe who are registered for service are: Mr. William Christiansen, Mr. George P. Farkas, Mr. Milton Gamble, Mr. Lewis Gilfoy, Mr. Darrell Gooch, Mr. Francis M. Howard, Mr. Samuel T. Kelley, Mr. Beldon C. Leonard, Mr. Frank Noffke, Mr. Wayne A. Shrum, Mr. William Smith, Mr. Henry F. Thomas, Mr. Frank S. Watkins, Mr. Byron L. Willis, Mr. Merle Wimmer, Mr. Raphael W. Wolfe, and Mr. Elwood L. Yeager.

Uncle Sam calls many relatives to service

By DOROTHY KING

The army, navy, and marines have called many fathers and brothers of Howe students to the service.

In the army division, Peggy Percival's father is a major and head of Dental Clinic No. 1. Barbara Creighton's brother is a private at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Joe Pesut has a sister as well as a brother in the army. His sister, Elizabeth, is a lieutenant in the army nursing corps. She is at Tripler Hospital in Honolulu. His brother, John, is a first class sergeant at Lowry Field.

Jo Ann Yager's brother, "Windy," is in the signal corps at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, while Maxine Dietz's brother is in the army air force.

Roanna English has two brothers in the service, one at Camp Shelby and the other at Camp Walters, Texas. Bob Miles's brother, also at Camp Shelby, is a corporal.

Mary Hibbert's brother, Lewis, is stationed in the Panama Canal Zone as a mechanic in the air corps. Marie Tyner and Marjorie McAfee both have brothers at Fort Harrison. Marjorie's brother is a corporal.

Charles Mosiman, brother of Mildred, is stationed at Aberdeen, Maryland. He will become a noncommissioned second lieutenant and an instructor in artillery in the near future.

Jack Capp, brother of Tom Capp, is a flying sergeant in the army air corps.

Harold Schilling's brother, Jack, is at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Michigan, but he is expecting to be sent to the West Coast shortly. Catherine Jordan's brother is a corporal in the air corps at Phoenix, Arizona. George Schneider, brother of Mary and Bob, is a technical sergeant stationed at Aberdeen, Maryland. Frances Hargrave's brother has been at Biloxi, Mississippi, since last August, training to be an airplane mechanic.

Jane Gemmill has a brother who is second licutenant in the 43d Bombing Squadron and is stationed at Morrison Field, West Palm Beach, Florida. Dick Shaffer has a brother who is first licutenant at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

Although these and many other students have relatives in the army, the navy comes in for its share too. Virginia Hay's father is a doctor in the naval reserve, stationed at Parris Island, South Carolina.

Jo Brenton's father is a petty officer and first-class printer at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. Bob Cole has a brother there who is also a petty officer. Betty Moffitt has two brothers who are seamen. Betty Russell has a brother on the U. S. S. Sacramento at Hawaii. Mildred Marshall's father is a lieutenant commander in the navy and has recently returned from the Pacific. He has been rooming in New York while waiting for further orders to sail. He is expecting to sail on the U. S. S. Relief, a hospital ship.

Vivian Johnson's brother is somewhere in the Atlantic as a first-class seaman on the U. S. S. Texas.

Jo Ann Oaks's brother, Bob, is stationed at Pearl Harbor as a first-class seaman on the U. S. S. Sacramento, and Bob Hinkle has a brother who is a second-class seaman. He is stationed at Portsmouth, Virginia, where the ships are being armed.

Bob Warden's family plays no favorites. He has one brother who is an ensign in the navy, serving in the Pacific, and two other brothers in the army. One is corporal at Long Beach, California, and the other is at Camp Lee, Virginia.

Nada Loos's brother is in the marines. He is stationed in California to help guard the Pacific coast.

Patty Lou Brown's father, who formerly worked at Allison's, will leave this month for Africa.

Alfreda Worland's brother, working at Hickam Field for the army, has just returned from Pearl Harbor where he witnessed the Japanese bombings at the beginning of the war. He barely missed being killed. The bullet struck a friend who was standing beside him. He was formerly in the navy.

Howe students saved and volunteered to help in the war efforts.

Parents To Receive PFC Shaw's Medals

The Bronze Star and other decorations will be awarded posthumously at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Fort Benjamin Harrison to the parents of Stephen W. Shaw, United States Army PFC a graduate of Thomas Carr Howe High School, who was killed in action June 17 in Vietnam.

The awards, including the Purple Heart, Good Conduct Medal and Combat Infantryman's Badge, will be presented to Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw, 4605 English Avenue.

Before his death, Shaw had received the National Defense Service Medal, Vietnam Service Medal, Vietnam Campaign Ribbon, Expert Badge with machine gun and Sharpshooter Badge with rifle.

He was killed during a Viet Cong attack while on a reconnaissance mission north of Saigon.

STEPHEN W. SHAW

He was graduated from Howe in 1963 and served a four-year apprenticeship with the Western Electric Company as a tool and die maker. He entered the service in November, 1967, received his basic training at Fort Campbell, Ky., and went to Vietnam last April. He was a member of the Marion County Young Republican Club.

SFC Ponting Dies In Viet, Toll To 448

The number of Hoosier servicemen killed in the Republic of South Vietnam climbed to 448 yesterday with the announcement that Army SFC John R. Ponting, 31 years old, 7238 Twin Oaks Drive, Apt. E, was killed in action.

Sgt. Ponting was a member of the 173d Airborne Brigade and died in combat Nov. 22. He was a native of Sumner, Mo., and had been in the Army since Jan. 1954.

He served a tour of duty in Germany and came to Indianapolis in 1963 as an ROTC instructor. His last assignment before going to Vietnam last August was at Thomas Carr Howe High School.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Thelma D. Ponting; two sons, Tod L. and James Loren Ponting; a daughter, Toni; a brother, Richard Ponting, Sumner, Mo.; two sisters, Mrs. Mildred Van Sickle, Kansas City, Mo.; and Mrs. Theresa Poster, Sumner, Mo.; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Ponting, also of Sumner, Mo.

Alma Mater

To Howe, we're loyal;
we hail thee, Alma Mater;
We're proud of your colors;
We'll fight for you,
and we'll always be true.
To Howe, be honor
and glory everlasting!
We'll praise your courage
dauntless evermore;
Oh, hail, Howe High!

THE TOWER — March 13, 1964

"Sweet 16" Berth

Stutz's men make Indians from Anderson say How(e)

Howe moved into the "Sweet Sixteen" for the first time by beating three-time state champion Anderson 68-64 in the final game of the Indianapolis Regional last Saturday night. It was Anderson that knocked Howe out of the Regionals 20 years ago.

Except for Steve Clevenger's opening basket, the Hornets led all the way. Anderson made errors and could connect on only seven of 19 field attempts while Howe hit on ten of 18 shots to take a 22-16 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Hornets increased their margin to a 38-30 advantage at halftime.

Hornets increase advantage

Field goals at the start of the second half by Bill Mauck and Tom Harvey closed the gap to 38-34 before the Howe offense picked up to regain their eight point lead and then push their advantage to 54-40 at the end of three quarters.

Anderson's full-court press cut Howe's margin to 59-52 with five minutes remaining in the game. Then with three minutes to go the Indians were behind only 61-58.

Tying attempts missed

With 13 seconds left in the game and the score at 66-64, Clevenger got a screen but missed his shot from close range and also the rebound attempt. Jon Reynolds grabbed the rebound and passed to Ric Burrell who was fouled. Burrell sank the two free throws in to insure the victory.

Burrell and Clevenger shared high-point honors with 26. Chuck Mundy had 15 points, Brent Anderson 14, Jim Pettee 9, and Jon Reynolds 5. Dale Barrett provided some excellent relief work, especially when Pettee got into some early foul trouble.

Errors, shooting hurt Indians

Although Anderson out-rebounded Howe 41-19, the Indians were hurt in two other departments—errors and shooting. Anderson committed 12 errors to Howe's seven. While Clevenger hit 12 of 27 field attempts, the rest of the Anderson team could manage only 15 field goals in 56 attempts.

While such terms as Cinderella team and miracle men are being used to describe Howe's team, it should be pointed out that the Hornets have personally side-lined the fifth and sixth ranked teams in the state during the past two weeks. Not even Columbus, who has played only one top-ranked team (Anderson), can make that claim. Howe deserves to be where it is today.

Bottom Left: Do you recognize anyone from the National Honor Society of 1976?

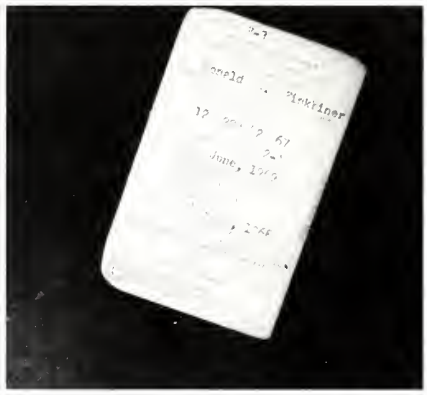

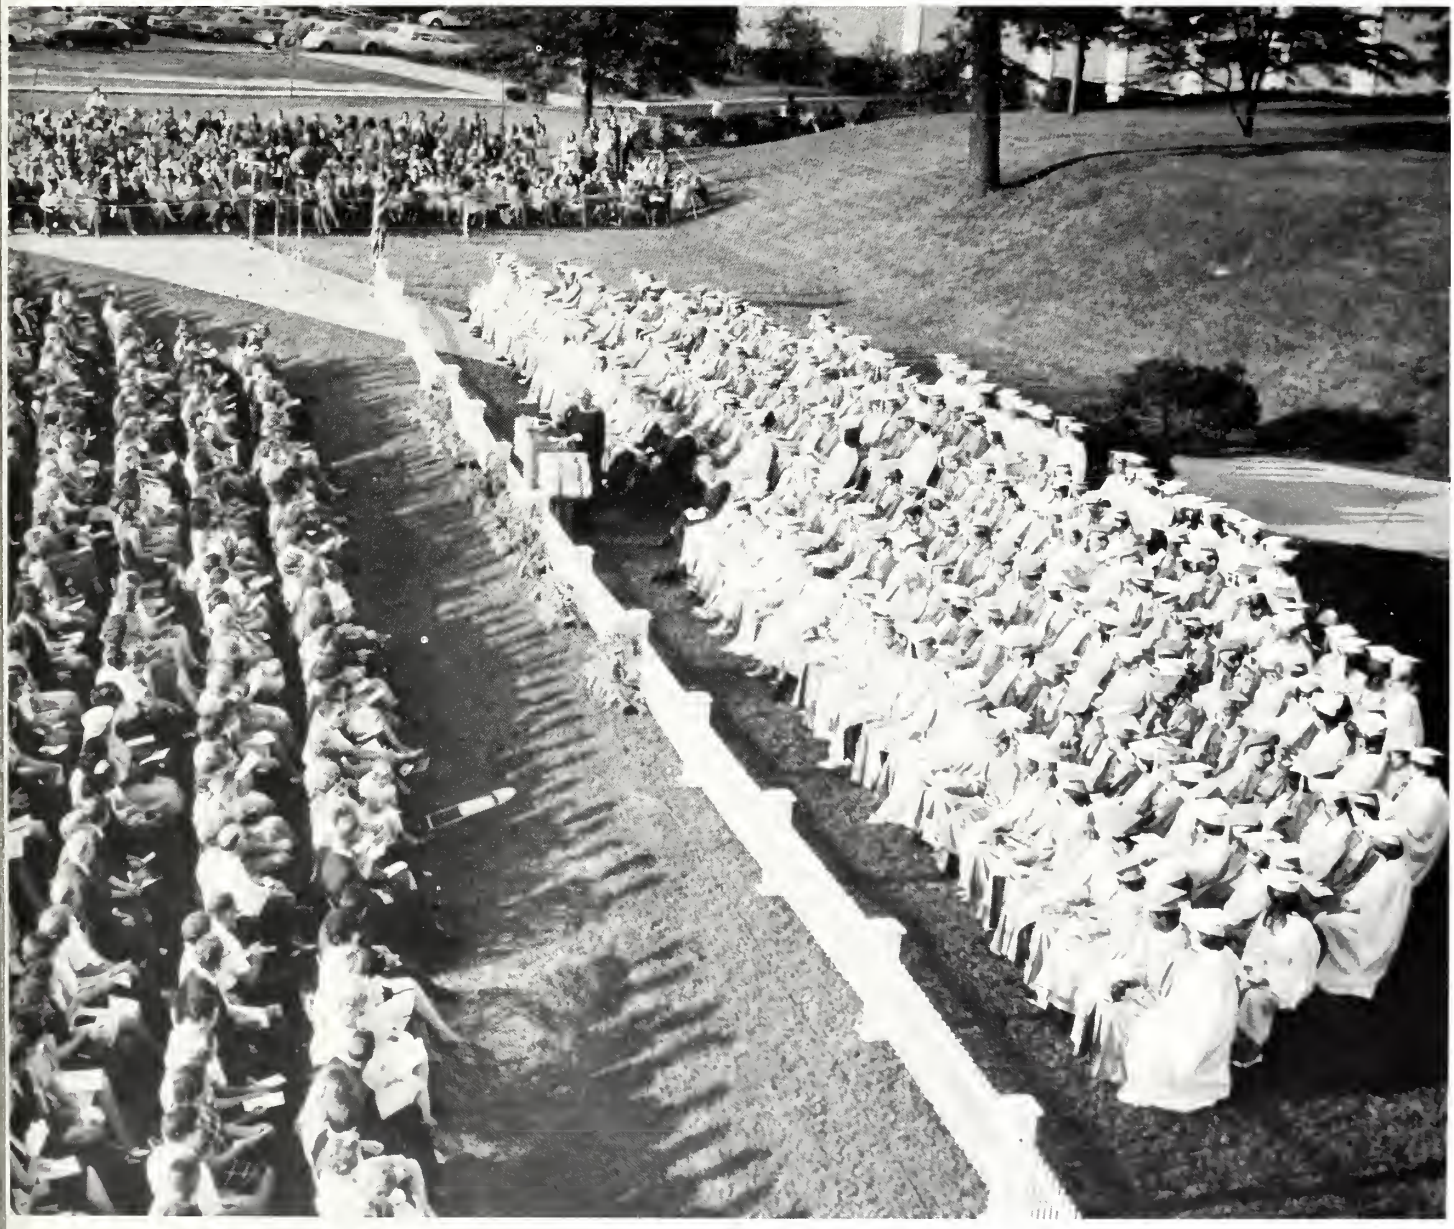

Above: Do you see Becky Smith, Pam O'Haver, Debbie Bridgeforth, or Carrie Shepard, Hornet Honeys of the 1970's? The Hornet Honeys' group was later renamed the Highsteppers. Remember bell bottoms from this period of time?

Then and . . .

Left: Remember when proms and dances were in the cafeteria?
Below Right: Remember when Vietnam selective service cards might show a 2A rating?
Bottom: Maybe, graduation will be on the hill as it was in the early 1960's.

Right: This last picture of the building was taken February 1995. The building will now stand alone and empty and will be missed by many from the past and present.

Above: The Class of 1996 is together for one of its last times.

Below: The building, from this view, includes the 1954 and 1963 additions.

The Beginning / The End

Thomas Carr Howe High School opened its doors in September 1938 with 433 students and a staff of sixteen teachers. The school celebrates its birthday on May 28, the day ground was broken for the new school in 1937. The school is named for Thomas Carr Howe, a former president of Butler University who lived on North Audubon Road. His former home is now a part of the Irvington Methodist Church.

The original blueprints called the school Irvington High School even though the western boundary of Irvington was Emerson Avenue. Irvington had been annexed to Indianapolis in 1902, with the promise that a high school would be built to serve the community. The town had had a school, but it had been destroyed by fire in the 1890's. Through the first part of the twentieth century students from the area attended Shortridge, Manual, or Tech. In 1930 the school board purchased the original 10.9 acre site which was known in the community as Violet Hill because of the many wild flowers growing between Pleasant Run and the Conrail tracks. Other areas considered for the school had been the southeast corner of Washington Street and Audubon Road and the old Butler University campus at Butler and University.

Mrs. Louis Bruck, a former president of the Irvington Union of Clubs and a school board member, was instrumental in convincing the school board to approve building the school. She was given the honor of turning the first spade of earth at the ground breaking in May 1937. Also present were students from schools 57, 58, 62, 78, 82, and 85 schools which would provide Howe's first students. The cornerstone located on the east side of the Tower entrance, was laid in November 1937 and contains the names of the first students, an American Flag, copies of the three Indianapolis daily newspapers, the News, the Star, and Times; a coin, and a Bible.

Charles M. Sharp, the first principal, served the school from its opening until his retirement in 1959. He was succeeded by Thomas Stirling, who retired in 1972. Frank Tout followed from 1972 to 1992, Bruce Beck filled in from 1989-1990, and Madora Walker became Howe's last principal from 1992 to 1995.

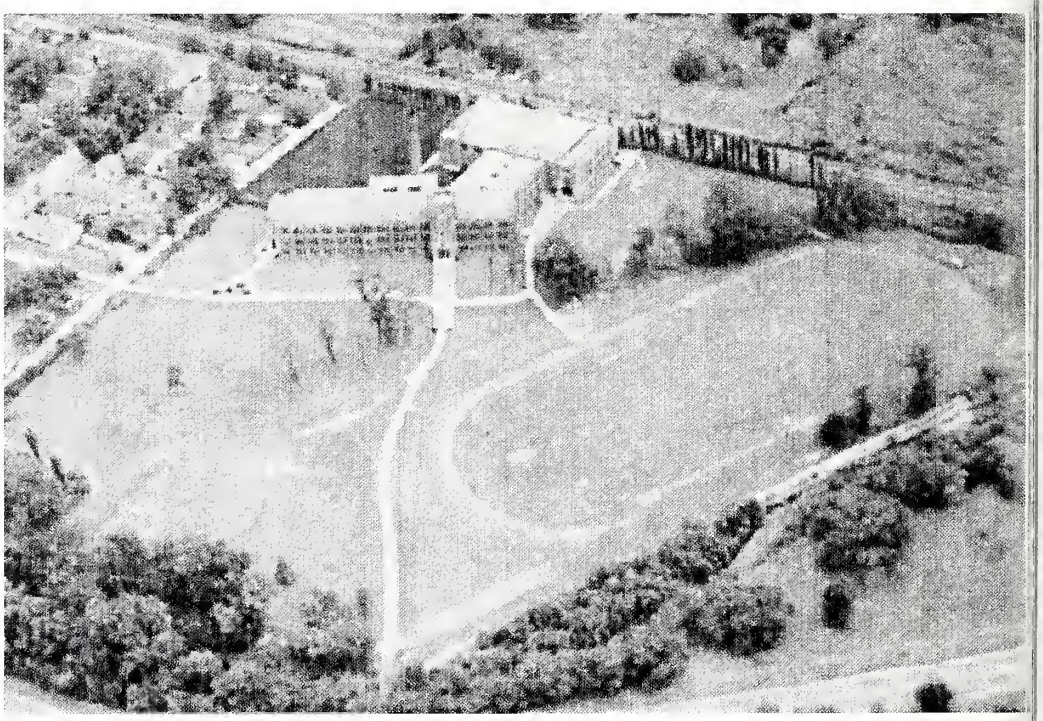

There have been four additions to the original building. In 1940 a cafeteria-gymnasium unit was added to replace the outgrown gymnasium—now rooms 227 and 229—and the overcrowded cafeteria--now the Distributive Education area, room 127. The east classroom wing was added in 1954, and the auditorium-cafeteria wing was opened in 1963. The stadium was completed in 1966, with classrooms added in 1969. The newest addition, finished 1975, included a new media center, a new gymnasium, new career education laboratories and new offices. Howe presently is located on a plot of ground totaling 31.35 acres. Extensive remodeling within the present building has also been completed. More than 17,000 students have been graduated from Howe since the first graduation exercises in 1941.

Washington, Howe highs will close

■ Key School is only other casualty of controversial vote that IPS officials say will save an estimated $2.2 million.

Left: The history of Howe has been basically reprinted from a previous Hilltopper.
Top Headline: This is what appeared in the newspaper after the announcement of Howe's closing.
Middle: The building had this appearance before the addition of the 1954 section.
Above: The aerial view shows only the 1938 building before additions. The stadium seats, even, were not yet built.

Farewell--as we pass slowly out of these doors of the years past, quietly shutting behind us; and we go forth eagerly to open the doors to the future and whatever it may bring.

For when one door is shut--another opens.
